New Rapid Pivot Tripods Provide Steady, Versatile Shooting Rest

Overland Park, KS — Finding a steady rest in the field can be a challenge, but the new Rapid Pivot Tripods from Stoney Point provide the stability and versatility that shooters and hunters need. The tripods are available in three adjustable sizes — 10 to 13”, 25 to 43” and 36 to 64” — that make it easy to shoot from a prone, sitting/kneeling or sitting/standing position.

Each tripod features the Rapid Pivot head that lets the shooter find and stay on target regardless of the shooting position or angle of the shot. The neck of the Rapid Pivot head is designed so it can flex up, down, left and right for precise sight alignment. The Rapid Pivot head attaches onto the forward swivel stud on the rifle stock, and when the tripod is removed, the shooter can still attach a sling to carry his rifle.
